

Quality Policy

For Medical Devices

Alsons is committed to design, develop, manufacture and sell high quality Medical Devices, Components and Assemblies that are safe, effective, meet global standards and achieve the highest levels of customer satisfaction through:

- An effective and world class Quality Management System, that is regularly reviewed, maintained, updated, in line with global best practises.
- A firm commitment to strive for Continuous Improvement in all our Products and Processes from top management through company wide participation of all employees.
- Understanding the needs and requirements of our customers and striving to provide the best possible solution, and utilising the most advanced available technology.
- Meeting, maintaining and acquiring any and all local and global regulatory body standards, approvals, certifications and/or any other requirements in the field of Medical Devices and Accessories.
- Making quality our highest priority, as patients lives and well-being will depend on this.

A.R.Allana
(Chairman)